FOREWORD

It is my great honour to be writing the Foreword for a further booklet complimenting a third SEFF Memorial Quilt. Previously there have been two other Quilts produced: Your Legacy Lives On which concentrated on innocents mainly from Fermanagh and Tyrone and Terrorism knows NO Borders which remembers those innocents who were murdered in the Republic of Ireland and also throughout Great Britain as well as English, Scottish and Welsh families who had loved ones murdered in Northern Ireland, more often than not as serving soldiers within Regular British Army Regiments.

This latest Memorial Quilt aptly titled; A Patchwork of Innocents honours well over 70 innocent victims, with individual patches to over 60 of them. These individuals were murdered throughout Northern Ireland.

The centrepiece of this Quilt remembers the children whose lives were stolen as a consequence of the terrorist campaign. Four patches to individual innocents represent the wider number of children who were never able to grow into adulthood because others failed to respect the sanctity of human life. The youngest victim of 'The Troubles' is remembered, a mere 5 month old baby called Alan Jack. For Alan his life was essentially ended before it ever started.

The significance of this Quilt and these type of Legacy projects is that they offer the means to remember those who are too often forgotten, those who are a mere footnote in history, a cold statistic. This Quilt brings alive the person behind the patch, the type of person they were, their interests, hobbies, their commitment to their Christian faith, their commitment to service etc.

When terrorism (in 'The Troubles' context) engulfed Northern Ireland and then expanded into the Republic of Ireland, across the Irish sea to Great Britain and then made its way over to mainland Europe, that cancerous terrorism allowed perpetrators to dehumanise their fellow human beings, to actually murder a neighbour.

The Quilt moves beyond religious denominational issues, beyond politics - the Memorial Quilt honours innocents from whatever faith background or none that they came from and it does not take account of constitutional political perspective, rather the Quilt unifies those whose lives were stolen - those who had terrorism brought to their door, those who had NO CHOICE.

The finished Quilt is a toil of love and the team of circa 12 SEFF ladies involved in the Project under the stewardship and direction of Sonia Johnston have done justice to those being remembered, these individual innocents who meant so much to the families they left behind are being remembered with honour.

A short Film 'The Journey of the Quilt' which includes contributions from those who worked on the Project was made and this very much illustrates the immense work which went in to the Project as well as the consideration, sensitivity and love which was present.

As well as the core SEFF team of Quilt makers I would wish to pay a special word of thanks to Mabel Black and Avril Johnston who assisted in embroidering a number of individual patches, both ladies have been willing helpers in all three Quilt Projects we have undertaken to date.

Finally I would wish to acknowledge the efforts of Joy Aiken (SEFF's Projects Officer) who was the key conduit with the families and volunteers in enabling the Project to reach the point of completion and I thank Kenny Donaldson (SEFF's Director of Services) for his oversight and any other member of staff or volunteer who made a contribution in facilitating families to have loved ones included on the Quilt.

Yours,
Eric Brown
(SEFF's Chairman)

FORGET ME NOT

*Forget me not
I didn't choose to die at eighteen years
My time was chosen for me
Not for me some grandiose battle plan fought out o'er foreign fields.*

*I did not go to war
Nor to defend some great ideal...
I just went to work in a bitter urban landscape.*

*There were many good people...
But the cowards sought me out
Lurking in the darkness they carried out their poor misguided act,
Another piece in the endgame jigsaw ..or so they thought.*

*"Ourselves alone" this puzzle will never be complete,
For there are no straight edges
And over three thousand pieces are missing.*

*Forget me not.
My hour of darkness came in a blinding flash.
Was there time for pain or perhaps a solitary tear?
No time for last goodbyes.
Where is my mothers hand?
My brothers loving eyes?
My sisters caring smile?*

*Remember me.
For I cannot pass this way again and memories are all you can have.
Unlike those who put me here
Was it I who broke the law or they?
Yet they live to fight another day.*

*Don't grieve for me.
For at the outset my time was chosen
But not by the "brave men" of darkness who shot and ran,
By the Creator of all men, before whom all men unjustified
Will stand in final judgement.
Until That Day Forget Me Not Remember My sacrifice*

by PIRA terrorists - also see page 8)

Constable NORMAN ANDERSON

Service Number: 7758

1936 - 27th Jan 1961

Constable Norman Anderson was stationed at Rosslea when murdered on the Fermanagh-Monaghan border on 27th January 1961. At the time of his murder the 26 year old's widowed mother lived at Kintyre Road, Larne. The off duty constable had been returning to the station after visiting his girlfriend across the border in County Monaghan. He was on his way back to his van when he was overpowered by his assailants, dragged up a laneway and shot repeatedly.

Constable Anderson's funeral was described in the Larne Times as 'the biggest seen in East Antrim in living memory'. Thousands from all over Northern Ireland and County Monaghan attended including the then Minister of Home Affairs, Brian Faulkner and the inspector general of the RUC, Albert Kennedy.

However Norman Anderson was not simply forgotten, a few months later a group of four friends decided to form a band. When the word got around applications to join the band started to flow in and the only concern was, what would they call the band? Permission was sought from Constable Anderson's family and with their agreement the band was named, The Constable Norman Anderson Memorial Flute Band.

This year the band celebrated their 55th anniversary, they are proud to represent Constable Anderson and to keep his memory alive. The Band has an on-going relationship with SEFF and has visited the County twice in recent times, once performing at a SEFF Concert event and also then availing of a Border Trail of South Fermanagh where members were able to visit the scene of Constable Anderson's murder and to pay their respects, honouring his memory.

Constable ROBERT DAVID LAVERTY

Service Number: 10887

8th September 1953 - 16th July 1972

Robert David Lavery was the fourth child and second son of James and Jane Lavery and he came from the town of Ballycastle on the North Antrim Coast. Jane had been widowed in 1962 and with seven children she relied on her tenacious spirit, her hard work and creativity, and her faith to carry her through what had been ten tough years.

Robert joined the RUC as a career move after initially serving time as an apprentice engineer at Monsanto in Coleraine. He saw this move as an opportunity to provide a good life for himself and to send something home for the family in Ballycastle.

However in the very early hours of July 16th 1972 Robert was a back seat passenger in a patrol car which was ambushed on the lower Antrim Road in Belfast. Robert was shot in the head. Despite his colleagues best efforts to save his life, he passed away without regaining consciousness.

Robert was 18 years old and his sad passing had a devastating impact on his very close knit family and in the wider community in North Antrim where the Lavery family were well known, loved and respected.

Thousands turned out for his funeral in the local Presbyterian Church where the church bell was later restored in his honour by friends and colleagues. Robert is sadly missed but never forgotten by his family.

The words of the famous hymn, 'How Great Thou Art' were chosen for Robert's patch as this hymn has great significance to the family, it is often sung in remembrance of Robert when the family get together.

ALAN JACK

Civilian

19th February 1972 - 19th July 1972

Alan Jack was the youngest victim of the 'Troubles' he was only 5 months old when he was murdered as a consequence of an IRA car bomb exploding in Strabane.

Alan's mother was pushing the baby in a pram along with her other son (Robert) who was 4 years old, a piece of glass just missed her and went into the pram, she was thrown forward by the blast and her other son was thrown to the ground.

Alan's mother was from Cork, she and her husband had met in London and were moving back to County Tyrone when the incident happened. Alan's father was a native of Ballymagorry, Alan's body was laid to rest at St. Patrick's Church of Ireland, Leckpatrick.

Unfortunately there are no photographs of Alan as a baby and so this is why an image of his family grave stone has been included within the booklet.

Alan's mother and father moved to Cork after the bomb, they went on to have three more children, Kieran, William and Caroline. Both parents are now deceased.

Reserve Constable ROBERT JOHN MONTGOMERY (JACKIE) GIBSON

Service Number: R1974

23rd July 1927 - 21st July 1972

Robert John Montgomery Gibson (known as Jackie) was born at Derryboy, Co. Down. He was married to Moreen Gibson and they had five children, Robert, Hilary, Lynda, Stephen and Dorothy. He was a bus driver with Ulsterbus and a part time Police Reserve Constable.

Along with his wife and two daughters he was a member of Raffrey Presbyterian Church choir, often taking the solo lead, he had previously been a member of Crossgar Choral Society, and proudly sang with the Belfast CE Choir. He was extremely well known in the local area and was very highly thought of.

Jackie was paying in the money to the office from his bus route on the 21st July 1972 when he was murdered by an IRA bomb which exploded in the Oxford Street Bus Station in Belfast, on the day which has become known as 'Bloody Friday'.

45 years later he is still much loved and missed by his family. The patch on the quilt is memorialised by the RUC Crest, an Ulsterbus and musical notes to show his work and his love of singing.

CLAUDY BOMBINGS

31st July 1972

The Claudy bombings occurred on 31st July 1972, when three car bombs exploded mid-morning on the Main Street of Claudy in County Londonderry. The attack murdered nine civilians; Elizabeth McElhinney, Joseph McCloskey, Kathryn Eakin, Rose McLaughlin, Patrick Connolly, Arthur Howe, David Miller, James McClelland and William Temple. It became known as “Bloody Monday”.

Amongst those murdered were men, women and children transcending political affiliation and religious background.

The attack on Claudy was a shameless act of barbaric terrorism which was indiscriminate, attacking the sanctity of life. Just as was the case throughout the period referred to as, 'The Troubles,' terrorists were not particularly concerned with who the collateral damage of their evil actions were. Their political cause and ideology enabled them to justify their heinous deeds.

The Claudy families have carried themselves with immense dignity against the backdrop of such devastation to their lives. Those who bombed Claudy and those who were involved in the subsequent aftermath who did not fulfil their obligations under law or under the moral code they claimed to operate within should and must be held accountable.

On 31st July 2017 families remembered the Bomb and their loved ones 45 years on, SEFF was privileged to help organise an open air Community event with the families, attended by well over 300 people from across the community.

DAVID MILLER

Civilian

2nd October 1911 - 31st July 1972

David was from the town of Claudy, he was a Council Worker but was also the Sexton in his local Church (Comber Lower, Killaloo Church of Ireland). He was very involved in all aspects of the Church and dedicated his life to it, he also helped the Canon with his duties. This is the reason why the Church was chosen to represent David within his patch on the Quilt.

David was married to Annie Miller and they had 3 children, Jean, Derek and Gordon. James is remembered as a great family man and was someone who adored his Grandchildren (some of whom he never got to meet due to his untimely death).

David was murdered on 31st July 1972 when the third bomb exploded in the town of Claudy. David was amongst those helping to move the dying and the injured to an area they thought was safety when the bomb went off.

Lance Corporal ALFRED JOHNSTON

Service Number: 24166660

8th June 1940 - 25th August 1972

Alfie Johnston was a Lance Corporal within the UDR, he was married with four children and was murdered alongside his colleague, James Eames.

The two men were murdered on 25th August 1972, Alfie (32) and Jimmy (33) when a Provisional Irish Republican Army remote controlled bomb, hidden in an abandoned car detonated when their patrol approached at Cherrymount, near Enniskillen. Jimmy and Alfie died instantly.

Alfie was a part time member of the UDR and also worked in a local factory. He enjoyed fishing and would frequently fish around the Fermanagh lakes. He also had a motorbike which is pictured above.

Private GEORGE ELLIS HAMILTON

Service Number: 24205329

17th October 1942 - 20th December 1972

George Ellis Hamilton (known as Ellis) was from Kildoag near Claudy in County Londonderry, he was a private in the UDR, he was 28 years old and was married to Margaret, they had one daughter, Jacqueline who was 4 years old at the time of Ellis's murder.

Ellis worked as an electrician for a company in Londonderry; he also served as a part time soldier on the UDR. He was in his civilian job, at the time he was murdered, when an IRA sniper hit him with a single shot in the back.

A loyal member of the Orange and Black institutions Ellis held them in great esteem; he regularly attended meetings and enjoyed all the parades. Ellis was also a keen fisherman and was a dedicated husband and father.

Ellis' sister-in-law Mary Hamilton was also directly impacted by the campaign of terrorism when suffering injury as a result of the Claudy bomb, also in 1972, a mere 5 months earlier.

'Too good in life to be forgotten in death'

JAMES MULLAN

Civilian

Date of Murder - 21st December 1972

James was murdered by loyalists (believed to be the Red Hand Commando) as he waited on the Clandeboye Road, Bangor for a lift to his nightshift work at a carpet factory based in Donaghadee. James lived in the nearby Tudor Park having moved from Belfast some months previously. He had formerly worked as a bread server. James had a 4-year-old son at the time of his murder.

As his regular lift pulled up so too did another car and shots were fired hitting James on the arm and stomach, he died in hospital just 30 minutes later. James' murder was the first sectarian killing to take place in Bangor, known as a picturesque North Down seaside Town.

In January 1973 four men from east Belfast were charged with his murder along with two others, Sandra Meli and David McAleese but three months later the charges were dropped. James Mullan is yet another murder which remains unsolved.

Unfortunately we have been unable to include a photograph for James within the booklet; James had been survived by sister Una whose married name was Moffett. Una and her family joined SEFF some 2 plus years ago after reading an article we had been quoted from within The Belfast Telegraph, she rang the office and asked could her family join, that ours' was the organisation that she could associate with - she related with our consistent stance on terrorism and criminal violence from whatever quarter it came.

Una was due to speak at SEFF's Conference earlier this year and the European Day for Victims of Terrorism event in Stormont but tragically she passed away in January. It was Una's wish prior to her passing that a patch be added on our next quilt remembering James so we are following through with her wishes.

Unfortunately despite several attempts we haven't been able to locate another surviving family member at the point of this Publication being printed.

Una and her husband owned the popular and successful business Balmoral Furniture and were no strangers to being victimised through terrorism, their business - a business which always employed Protestant and Roman Catholic was the business attacked by Bobby Sands and his colleagues and for which they were then incarcerated within the Maze Prison.

James will not be forgotten nor will Una, a lady we are privileged to have known.

Private JOHN KENNETH HILL

Service Number: 24301972

23rd April 1949 - 28th August 1973

Kenneth came from a family of 13 children, 4 boys and 9 girls. He worked at the Ministry of Agriculture in Loughgall and loved the outdoor life. He had only been a Private in the UDR for 6 months when the IRA lured him to his death to clear a bomb scare at a housing estate in Armagh.

His hobbies included writing poetry (see below a poem written by Ken in 1972, the year before his murder) he also enjoyed music, he tried to teach himself how to play the guitar, one of his favourite musicians was Bob Dylan.

Ken was only 24 years old at the time of his murder; he had previously served for two and a half years in the RAF.

Black and White

*The night is black, the day is light
As far apart as black and white
The world is good, the world is bad
The world is full of good and bad
Some are rich, some are starving,
Some are gay and some are sad
A craft speeds out through space and lands upon the moon,
While in jungle clearing a young man dies too soon
While in Africa discrimination tries to quell a whole nation,
In Israel an angry peace is set which warlords watch,
And watching yet don't hear the distant plea of all humanity.*

Written by Ken Hill, 1972 (murdered on 28th August 1973)

MARGARET ELIZABETH KILFEDDER

Civilian

17th September 1914 - 1st June 1975

Margaret Elizabeth Kilfedder (known as Ena) was born on 17th September 1914 and died on 1st June 1975 as a result of an IRA bomb detonated outside her bedroom window in the early hours of Sunday morning. She was just 60 years old.

Mrs Kilfedder was born in Ballyshannon, her husband, Samuel Robert Kilfedder passed away in 1978. They had 5 children, Gregory, Marjorie (known as Lily), John, Irene and Samuel.

Mr & Mrs Kilfedder retired from work in Belfast and on retirement moved to Garrison, County Fermanagh. The Kilfedder family moved into the home which the McClure family were forced to abandon at a time when PIRA were targeting security force members, having murdered a number of people.

Mrs Kilfedder was said to be a very quiet lady who enjoyed travels around Fermanagh and Donegal and socialising with family.

Her husband drove a sky blue Morris Minor, the two of them enjoyed going for drives together to the beach, often bringing a picnic with them, this is why the beach and picnic scene are depicted within her patch on the Memorial Quilt.

JOHN EDWARD McCREADY

Civilian

23rd February 1919 - 6th February 1976

John was a well-liked and well-respected builder in Belfast. He grew up in Groomsport Village and Bangor where he was a part-time member of the Fire Service.

He met and married Catherine (Renee) Rainey and they had a son, John Edward Martyn McCready. John was a drummer with the Cleland Memorial Pipe Band for many years and a member of the Orange Lodge and Masonic fraternity.

His life centred around his work, home, family and his membership of these organisations. This is why the emblems were chosen for John's patch on the Memorial Quilt.

John was in fact returning from a Masonic meeting when he was stopped by two IRA men in a car, they opened fire and shot him 4 times - this happened on his wife's birthday.

WILLIAM (WILLIE) HERRON

Civilian

5th February 1912 - 7th April 1976

William known as Willie to his friends was born in 1912 at Dechomet near Ballyward, he was the eldest son of John and Ellen Herron and a brother of James, Tommy, Robert and Mary. After his school days he left the family farm to serve his apprenticeship to the drapery trade in Rathfriland followed by Walkers in Banbridge before coming to Jameson's in Church Street, Dromore.

Willie met Beth Scott, they married in 1941 and set up home at Kinallen where their twin daughters were born, Carol and Joy. Willie established his own business in Dromore but on expansion he purchased bigger premises on the corner of the Square and Bridge Street, the family moved into the accommodation above the shop, a second set of twins were born, Derrick and Alistair and the family was then complete with the birth of Noeline in 1949.

In the years that followed Herron's drapery business prospered in Dromore and in manufacturing band and other uniforms and regalia. The family had premises on Royal Avenue Belfast, they were destroyed by a bomb so the business relocated to Wellington Place.

Willie was viewed as a hardworking, pleasant individual who made many friends and was always willing to offer his time, expertise and support to initiatives which would benefit the town. He also had a strong faith.

On 7th April 1976 three members of the family, William, Beth and Noeline were sleeping in the flat above their drapery store where an incendiary device planted by two 16 year old female members of PIRA ignited. All three family members were overcome by smoke. The two PIRA terrorists concerned were imprisoned but were then granted The Royal Prerogative of Mercy and released.

William, Beth and Noeline are still very much missed and remembered by their surviving family members each and every day.

DOREEN ELIZABETH (BETH) HERRON

Civilian

18th September 1917 - 7th April 1976

Doreen Elizabeth Herron (known as Beth) was born in 1917, she was the eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs James Scott from Mossvale, Artana, she was sister to Helen and Eric.

She met her husband William (Willie) at a Church Social function at First Dromara Presbyterian Church, they married in 1941 and had five children including two sets of twins.

Beth had many interests outside her role as a homemaker, from Meals on Wheels to the OWA and Artana WI. She also played an active role in the family business.

A Dove as a sign of 'peace' was chosen to represent Beth on the Memorial Quilt.

NOELINE HELEN HERRON

Civilian

11th August 1949 - 7th April 1976

Noeline was the youngest sibling in the Herron family; she was born in 1949 and was involved in the family's drapery business.

She worked in a smaller shop her father owned in Dromore which sold household goods, curtain material, fabrics and so on. Noeline's square on the Memorial Quilt includes some patchwork which captures her work with fabrics, curtains etc in the household store.

All three members of the Herron family who were murdered on 7th April 1976 had a strong Christian faith; they were all committed to supporting each other, at home, in business, church and social activities.

Lance Corporal JOSEPH JAMES (JIMMY) SPEER

Service Number: 24280979

25th December 1929 - 9th November 1976

Joseph James Speer (known as Jimmy) was born on 25th December 1929; he was murdered on 9th November 1976.

Jimmy was brought up on a farm outside Moneymore but became a mechanic as a young teenager and also joined the UDR. Jimmy had 2 brothers and 3 sisters and was married to Ruby, together they had 3 children Deirdre, Cheryl and Dermot they were aged 16, 14 & 9 years old at the time of his murder.

Being a mechanic by trade Jimmy set up his own business at an early age, he built a garage across from his house. At the time he was murdered he had and was expanding into car sales, renting of agricultural machinery and had built an extension to his premises and bought the adjoining land. Within the community he was considered to be a successful business man and was much respected by everyone.

Jimmy was very dedicated to his family; he was very much into his community and people. He was always helping out locals, strangers and people who were generally in need. He was also a very committed member of the Orange Order (Cranny LOL1015) and a founder member of Desertmartin Black Preceptory. He was also a member of the Masonic Lodge. He was a religious man and regularly worshiped at Lecumpher Presbyterian Church.

Jimmy was a member of the 'B' Specials and then joined the UDR shortly after its' formation, he was a Lance Corporal at the time of his murder. Jimmy was faithful to his country and wanting to play his role in protecting it.

On 9th November 1976 Jimmy was shot in the garage that he owned when three men drove in, asked him to look at a leaking radiator and shot him in the head. His family heard the shots from the house opposite and they were with Jimmy when he died.

A few days after the funeral Jimmy's family returned the wreath which had been delivered to their home by the Secretary of State, Jimmy and his wife Ruby previously discussed how they considered this a mockery when other families received the wreath.

Corporal DAVID GRAHAM

Service Number: 23465537

10th July 1938 - 25th March 1977

David Graham was born in July 1938, in the heartland of Cohannon, Tamnamore. He was the first-born son of Richard and Margaret Graham, brother to Ethel, Jim and the late John. David married his sweetheart Eileen McMinn, on March 16th 1964. They had three children Derek, Alan and Serena.

David's love was his family, but he also had a keen interest in greyhounds, in fact in the early 1970s he sold one of his prized greyhounds to gather up some money to take his family on holidays to Ballina. Two weeks prior to the holiday the dog, Moreclose broke the track record in England.

David was a proud member of LOL 513 which he was Deputy Master at the time of his murder. He was a member of Bush Black RBP No 4 and a member of RAOB, Dungannon. David also had a great love for gardening particularly growing vegetables and flowers in his garden patch, the pink Rose being his favourite of all.

In 1972 David became a part-time member of the 8th Battalion of the UDR. He served for five years and made the rank of Corporal, he was to be promoted to Sergeant before his murder.

On the 15th March 1977 David went to his civilian place of work, Masstock factory Coalisland where two armed masked IRA gunmen shot David from behind, as he fell to the ground they continued to fire at him. David lived for 10 days on a life support machine but sadly due to his inhumane injuries he died on the 25th March 1977. David lies resting in Killyman Parish graveyard.

Loved, cherished and never forgotten

Constable SAMUEL DEREK DAVISON

Service Number: F/11116

10th September 1952 - 2nd June 1977

Derek was born in Milford, County Donegal in 1952, in 1960 the family moved to County Fermanagh and made Enniskillen their home. Derek was educated at the Enniskillen Model School, Enniskillen High School and the Technical College.

His first job after leaving school was with Slack and Parr engineering. He then joined the RUC in 1972 determined to do his bit for Ulster. In September 1975 Constable Davison married a Fermanagh girl, Audrey Shaw.

Derek was fond of all sports but he was particularly interested in motorcycle racing. He was also a member of the Apprentice Boys of Derry, Enniskillen branch.

Derek was murdered on 2nd June 1977 along with two RUC colleagues when their patrol car was ambushed by the IRA at Ardboe near Lough Neagh.

Constable KENNETH NORMAN LYNCH

Service Number: 12414

16th May 1955 - 2nd June 1977

RUC Constable Kenneth Norman Lynch was born on 16th May 1955 to William and Anna Lynch, and brought up near Donemana in Co. Tyrone. He was the third brother of four children, the youngest being a sister. Hazlett was the eldest, then William, Ken, and Lynda.

Ken was a big lad, he was tall and well built, and he had a normal childhood and upbringing in a church-attending family. He joined the Scout troop in Donemana and enjoyed camps in Scotland, the Isle of Man and also in Northern Ireland. He later joined the local flute band. He loved cooking and baking. He was also an avid Manchester United fan and on occasions travelled to Old Trafford to watch his team play.

On leaving school in Strabane, he worked for a few months in a Londonderry supermarket before getting a job in Dupont, during which time he served in Strabane in the RUC Reserve before joining the regular RUC in June 1976.

On the last Sunday Ken was alive, the whole Lynch family were together. It was a lovely afternoon and after a walk up the back field and along the river, he left late that afternoon to make his way to Cookstown. This was the last time the family saw him alive. The East Tyrone brigade of the IRA chose to murder Ken, along with two RUC colleagues, and on the Thursday afternoon of 2nd June 1977, they carried out their wicked deed.

His murder hit the family very deeply, and with lasting effects. He was buried in Mountcastle cemetery following a thanksgiving service in his home congregation of Donaghedy Presbyterian Church on Sunday 5th June. A huge crowd of mourners attended the funeral, estimated at the time to be in the region of 3,000.

Ken was a 'larger than life' character, full of fun and mischief. Both his parents died without getting justice for Ken. Justice delayed is justice denied!

Reserve Constable HUGH HENRY MARTIN

Service Number: R499

29th January 1919 - 2nd June 1977

The two men had been childhood friends and their relationship had spanned the entirety of their lives, with the men having worked for over 40 years together.

Unfortunately due to our inability to get clarity on Fred's date of birth we are not including a date which could be inaccurate, we know that at the point he was murdered that he was 64 years of age and should've been looking forward to enjoying retirement.

Fred is remembered on the Memorial quilt with an image of Inishmacsaint Church of Ireland where he is buried.

Leanne was one of nine people murdered in the Shankill bomb, an attack by PIRA terrorists upon Frizzell's fish shop.

Leanne is remembered by her family as a lovely little girl who was very calm in life. She enjoyed her netball in school, coming home and as her brother Gary fondly recalls, arguing with him ... over little silly things about who would do the dishes for their mum or whose turn it was to do the housework.

Leanne was known as a very outgoing person who loved life. Her hair was very long and it took her hours to wash and brush it.

Leanne had been on a cross-community trip to America only six weeks before she died. On that trip she met another little girl called Roisin from Ligoniel who she became very friendly with. Roisin came down to the family home before the funeral.

Leanne went shopping with her mum on the Shankill every Saturday. When the bomb was detonated, Leanne died instantly; she had gone to buy whelks in the fish shop.

It was reported at the time Mr Cameron's wife worked at the Royal Victoria Hospital and had treated victims of the Shankill bomb.

Mark's son (also named Mark) has spoken at SEFF's Annual Conference where he shared his memories of his Dad which whilst limited due to his young age nevertheless are memories and reflections that have stayed with him in forming him into the man he is today.

Mark is committed to his Christian faith and of doing what he can to build relationships across the community, something he believes is in keeping with what his father would have wanted.

Mark shares with his Dad a deep love for boxing and he currently fights as an Amateur Boxer.

Jackie had a great interest in greyhound racing, this was one of his main interests and he would regularly attend race nights at Dunmore Greyhound Stadium. He was also interested in football and was generally keen on all sports.

On 10th March 1994 Jackie went to the Dunmore Greyhound stadium with his wife Kim who was 3 months pregnant at the time. Over the years Jackie had owned and raced dogs of his own; a couple of them had been very successful. The Greyhound Community was very mixed, they socialised and met with both sides of the community, there was never an issue. Although Jackie would never discuss the fact he was a serving member of the RUC, there is no doubt a lot of individuals within the Greyhound circles were aware.

Jackie was sitting in the bar area having a drink with Kim and friends; a PIRA gunman walked up and shot Jackie in the head in front of his pregnant wife and then shot him again as he lay on the ground, a second gunman fired shots in the air before making their escape. Jackie was pronounced dead on arrival at the Mater Hospital. Only one person was convicted in relation to Jackie's murder; this being the person who supplied a house for the PIRA gunmen to change and dispose of their clothes, he was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Jackie always wanted to join the RUC and was very proud to be a member. The Greyhound represents his love of greyhound racing, despite the risks, he was determined to enjoy this passion; this ultimately led to his murder when innocently enjoying this pass time with his wife.

JAMES BARKER

Civilian

2nd August 1986 - 15th August 1998

James Barker was a 12 year old schoolboy from Ballintrae, Buncrana in county Donegal. The family had moved from England to Buncrana in 1997 in order to get a better quality of life but only the following year James was to be taken from them in a heinous act of terrorism committed by RIRA terrorists - an attack which threatened to tear apart the Town of Omagh.

29 innocents were murdered as well as unborn twins with scores of others physically and psychologically injured. James was a goalkeeper for his local school and was due to go to a Belfast-based boarding school in September. James suffered severe head injuries in the bomb, and died shortly afterwards in hospital. His family did not know where James was for several hours after the explosion. He was buried in a joint service with Oran Doherty and Sean McLaughlin, in Buncrana.

His Mum Donna-Maria painfully recalls: "To see him lying there with those beautiful green eyes looking out at me as if he was waiting for me was devastating. I never realised how green his eyes were. That image will stay with me for the rest of my life". The images on the quilt depict James' life in Education but also his deep love of sport and particularly football.

Prior to his murder he had a Republic of Ireland football shirt, an item he cherished. No-one has ever been held criminally responsible for the Omagh bomb however a landmark ruling was made in recent years within the civil courts holding accountable members of the RIRA.

RONALD (RONNIE) HILL

Civilian

4th January 1931 - 28th December 2000

Ronnie, who was 69 when he died 13 years after being seriously injured in the Enniskillen Poppy Day Bomb massacre, he was Enniskillen High school's headteacher. He was at the Cenotaph with his bible class when the bomb exploded.

Ronnie was in a coma since PIRA's Poppy Day bombing and was lovingly nursed by his wife Noreen throughout those 13 painful years. She devoted almost all her waking hours to nursing him since he lapsed into a coma after sustaining horrific injuries in the Enniskillen IRA bombing which saw 11 innocents murdered on 8th November 1987. Noreen passed away in 2008.

The family possesses a strong and resolute Christian faith which sustained Noreen and other members throughout those difficult years and since Ronnie's passing. Often the family would read to Ronnie from the Scriptures, although they didn't talk for long spells as they were unaware how good his concentration was.

Long before there was much talk about cross-community work, Ronnie was said to have been working with Catholic teachers, bringing the two sides together. He is said to have believed young people should be educated to know the other side hadn't horns and that everyone should grow up together, respecting each other.

Ronnie and wife Noreen met at a church social in Kilkeel, Co Down, in the early 1950s and spent six years in Africa as missionaries before moving to Enniskillen.

He was also said to be devoted to his pupils and family. He was very interested in sport and used to coach rugby, football and cricket.

Ronnie proved his devotion to his wife when Noreen became ill with cancer about two years before the bombing and underwent intensive chemotherapy and radiotherapy. She would have been at the war memorial with him that fateful morning had she not been feeling unwell. Before her death she had remarked that she believes it was God's will that she made a full recovery and was able to care for him.

Ronnie and his late wife Noreen are survived by children, Avril, Marilyn, Siobhan and Keith.
