

Legacy Trails App

SEFF's Legacy Trails take you to the location of notable atrocities within a certain area, to give you a first-hand perspective on what happened.

SEFF has now launched a new app available on both Google Play (Android) and Apple mobile devices to allow users to explore our Legacy Trails at their leisure. Simply visit your App Store and search "SEFF Trails" and follow the instructions to install.

We welcome group bookings for in-person Legacy Trail tours. If interested, please visit our website or contact the office for more information.

What is SEFF's Advocacy Service for?

SEFF's Advocacy Service aims to support innocent victims and survivors of terrorism and 'other Troubles related criminal violence' (in the Northern Ireland context) with an advocacy related issue, particularly but not exclusively related to their justice, truth and accountability needs.

Who are the 'Innocent?'

- Media skills training and other tailored supports to empower victims/survivors to speak out for themselves
- Support to engage with Police Ombudsman for Northern Ireland and Garda Síochána Commission
- Support to engage with the Coroner's Office
- Support to engage with other investigative bodies (justice, truth, information recovery) as requested by the victim/survivor or family engaging. Promotion of victim and survivor issues within the public and media domains
- Networking groups and individuals who are innocent victims and survivors of terrorism and 'other Troubles related violence'
